

Environmental Policy

Hutchison Catering are committed to waste reduction and recycling applying to all environmental aspects of the activities undertaken by the Company. The Company will actively seek to limit the environmental impact of our operations and pursue the enhancement of environmental quality within our areas of influence. As part of its overall commitment to the environment, this statement identifies waste reduction as a key environmental and business objective.

This policy is designed to provide a framework for avoiding unnecessary use of materials and products, limiting waste generation and encouraging the reuse and recycling of materials in all areas of the business. Our primary aim is to avoid production of unnecessary waste and to ensure that such wastes as are generated are managed in accordance with legal requirements for production, handling, storage, record keeping and final disposal.

We will identify and quantify the major waste streams within Hutchison Catering and develop a waste management strategy setting targets for waste reduction and for the re-use or recycling of specific materials and products such as green waste. Where practicable and environmentally beneficial, the company will seek to use recycled materials and products such as paper, and we will support the use of easily recyclable materials in preference to those that are not.

We will establish links with other relevant organisations and local communities to establish opportunities for co-operative working towards waste reduction and recycling and will encourage joint initiatives in this area.

We will review annually our performance against these principles as part of our overall commitment to environmental achievement.
